Pam's Notes

Good morning. Chilly here this a.m., but nothing compared to the North.

I received a note from John O'brien this week:

John DeVaney has loaded some of his photos for this season up to the Google photo website. They can be viewed by going to the totfyi website and selecting the "TOT Photos Links" button. I have also added some more of the older albums to the links page.

We want to thank both John O and John D for their work on keeping the website up to date.

Marty Gawf has had some computer problems (Haven't we all.) If you haven't heard from her in awhile, you might drop her a line. Thank you. Last time I looked about an hour ago the temp.was clear up to 11 degrees. Sun is out?????

My new 10 computer had its way with me and addresses. Could have shot it, but then I'd just have to gotten a new one.

I bought one for Bob and he worked with it for a while and then put it back in the box and got his old one out. So much for the old dog. Marty

PS I sure miss the good old days at the Tip.

Not reported in the MMMeeting Minutes, but Linda York stated for all residents to be aware.

Can you email the date for electronic recycling? The trailer will be here Tuesday, January 29 from 1:00 to 3:00. No old paint or oil etc. There will be an environmental collection at the Pharr community centre on March 25.

So stay warm and well this week. I almost hate to report that our weatherman predicts warm sunny skies this week. I I'm hoping I won't jinks it. Have a good week. Pam
