Pam's Notes

Good Thursday morning: My apologies, I found this message in my draft and I had neglected to send.

Good morning: The weather has finally realized that we are in South Texas and it finally began to cooperate. We have bright sunshine and it's in the 90's this week. (Or that's what is predicted.) First I wanted to put this message in from Eileen Wilhelm: Marty was left off the Monday Morning list. He fell while in therapy and broke the femur in his leg. He returned to the hosp. and is now in re-hab. Eileen asked for prayers for his recovery. Our prayers go out to both of them.

I received this note from Bob and Alta on Tuesday: Just a quick note to let you know we made it home Tuesday evening about 7:30. The kids came and helped us unload. Had beautiful weather Monday and Tuesday for driving, in the 80's both days and 59 at 7:30 when we got home. Take care and have a good summer, and Lord willing see everyone in the fall

This was a good news for me because I, too, live in Central Illinois and glad to hear the weather is getting better there. Thanks Alta

The Yorks reported in last Monday: We are home tomorrow, I hope. Jim hurt his back just before we left so it has been a challenge getting him home. Flooding in Fargo and Grand Forks is amazing

An update on Steve Powell. He was transfered to Colonial Rehab facility this week. His two sons and brother came for a visit that helped perk him up. But both he and Gracanne need our prayers. The goal is to have him strong enough to travel in 3 weeks so they can return to Forsythe, MO.

Congratulations are in order for Barbara Horne to find a new roommate, Chica. An adorable new puppy.

The Adams reported also that they had safe travels:arrived home April 1 at 12:10 pm.....cold here, but flowers are blooming.....easy trip home, see you this fall...Jim and Carolyn Adams

Julie and Ramsay wrote: Home safe but returned to snow and cold weather.

And lastly, I need to share. Remember last week I thought about playing an April fools joke on you, but couldn't be creative.

Sharon Bramlett wrote:Bill pulled s good one on us at bingo. He said that Texas rules that all bingo money has to be given out and our games for Monday will be at $40 a bingo. Well, I was excited for sure. He let it sink in a few econds and then said"April Fool!" Boy did he get me and the rest of us! He is s stinker! I'm sure there were several in the Hall who were bright eyed and ears that perked up when they heard that. Good for Bill!!

Have a good week and travel safe....Pam
