Pam's Notes

Can you believe it's the end of November and Thanksgiving is this Thursday. The older we get, time passes so quickly. I am so thankful to be here at the Tip. We've had high 80's for the past several days. Of course the wind is always blowing, but no snow. I do want to wish all a Happy Turkey Day!!

A note...Marge Johnson's back surgery is this weeks and not last as was reported at the MMMeeting. It was scheduled for yesterday, Tuesday, but I haven't heard any outcome.

With no other news.....will close. Pam
