Pam's Notes

Good Wednesday Evening. Sorry I'm late again....didn't get back to the Tip until late last night from Houston. Infusion went very well. Fingers crossed and prayers that I haven't felt any side effects. Of course we won't know for another 3 weeks if this drug is working on the cancer. I do want to thank AGAIN all you prayers warriors out there. The Good Lord has looked over me.

We had a great time at the Halloween Party at the hall. I want to thank everyone for coming out to participate.

Rita Jalovy wanted me to thank everyone for her get well cards and cards for encouragement. She is working hard to recover from her accident. We all hope to see her back walking the Tip streets.

I haven't heard from anyone, so no other news to pass on at this time. Have a good week. Stay safe....get that 3rd covid shot. Pam
