Pam's Notes

Good Evening: It's quite warm here in South TX. High 90's with heat index in triple digits for several days now. But, the evenings are very nice. We have had some very windy days for the past week. Even though most Winter Tipsters have returned North, there's severa activities still going on. Due to the wind and heat....pickleball is being played indoors. If you're in the park...come join us.

I received a nice note from Bonnie Lynch who made it home to WI:

hope things are good with you and Pete. We are both fine now. We both fell on the way home but ok now. Stopped on the way home by Dallas and saw my sister. Then travelled by Nashville and saw friends. Then travelled to Ohio to visit our daughter and son-in-laws. Then to IL to see family. Finally home to stay for a while I hope. Everyone have a great summer! Hope all is well.

I do want to continue to thank EVERYONE for their prayers. My last visit to Houston showed no new lesions on my spine and those present are diminishing in brightness in my contrast MRI. Dr.

says that's good. The Lord is good! Please keep Sherrie and Gary Brink in your prayers. Gary is now in hospice in Dallas.

Have a good week....I'll be back in Houston next week...so minutes will probably be late...(as if they haven't been here of late) Sorry. Pam
