Pam's Notes

Good Wednesday morning:

Pete and I traveled to IL a week from last Monday only to have 80 mile an hour straight winds to blow through a hundred mile swath on Thursday. Our town was without power 5 to 6 days. We had to drive over 60 miles to find a generator. Anyway after roughing it for 5 days, we are back to normal. One doesn't realize how we rely on all our conveniences until we longer have them.

I am doing well. Still having balance problems, but no pain. Trying to establish an oncologist here in IL Pete had good news after wearing a heart monitor for a month. No residual effects showed up. Thank the Lord.

We are going to St. Charles, Mo this weekend to help Bob and Jenny Faasen celebrate their 50th Wedding Anniversary.

Wishing all a good week. Keep in contact!! Pam
