Pam's Notes

Hi from Livingston, South Africa:

I didn't think I would be able to send since I couldn't get my computer to adapt to this different voltage and electrical outlet. But, so far so good. After 3 days of traveling we arrived at Chobe Elephant Camp in Boswani. Wonderful Safari and saw 4 of the big 5 animals, Lion, Elephant, Buffalo, Leopard, but not Rhino. Tomorrow on walking Safari we should complete the list. We have seen thousands of zebra and impala, hundreds of elephant and giraffe, and birds galore. (Tibbets you would be in second heaven!!!!)

Will see the falls tomorrow and hopefully the white rhino.

Before I go, I want to pass on a note from long time Tipster Marty Gawf:

Bob has been in MO. Baptist Hospital since Aug. 17. He went in for a heart Cathe. and ended up with a 6 hour surgery that same day. He had extensive heart repair done to one side of the heart including 2 valves replaced. He has another surgery to go through when he recovers enough. There is a large aneurysm on the other side which they will stint. He has been in ICU all this time and will be there several more days until he is able to be put in a step down unit and get stronger before the second surgery. We're asking for prayers. We know they help. We had hopped to get south this winter but it could be doubtful now. He has a long way to recover.

Enjoy Africa. 2 friends went to South Africa this spring. I know you will learn a lot and come back appreciating the good old USA.

AS ever, Marty

Our prayers for both Bob and Marty.

I would still like to know an update on Jim York??? Anyone know??? Also, may I ask about Bill Mauck??? Didn't know what was your condition?

Have a good week, and start packing...cooler weather on the way and we need to start migrating south.

Pam
