Pam's Notes

*Good morning from Central IL. *

* I received good news from Linda York last Friday:*
Jim is in rehab at Riverview. Every day I go he is able to do more. Yesterday he walked down the hall with a walker but both feet were moving . He can hold a pen in his right hand and tried to write his name. He can stand alone with physio supervising. Yesterday was a good day!! I go up around 3:00 after all his specialists are finished with him and push him around the grounds. They let us take his dinner tray down to the cafeteria where I can buy my dinner and the atmosphere is nicer. He wears people clothes and really likes that. Enough! Can you tell I'm pumped? Keep the good thoughts coming .

*Thanks, Linda for keeping us informed. Praying for both of you. *

* I've been under the weather ever since returning from my trip. I guess traveling finally caught up with me. I haven't even enjoyed the warm temps we've been having. So with that, I'll go take my cough medicine and close.
