Pam's Notes

I tried sending this to you the first of the week and it bounced back. Hoping all goes through now. Sorry for the lateness.

Good morning from beautiful Fall Follage in New Hampshire. I decided to mark off an Easter trip to see the leaves during the fall. I haven't been disappointed on the colors....just the weather. Yesterday was a bit foggy and drizzling, and today it's raining. I guess it can't be perfect all the time.

I received a note awhile back that I forgot to send from Floyd and Carol Shepherdson. Thank you for keeping us on your mailing list. We look forward to receiving your reports on our TIP friends. I have had a hard time trying to write to tell you of Carol's health conditions because it kept changing. In the last six weeks she has been in and out of the hospital four times with infection in her abdominal cavity due to her treatment of her dialysis as well as other complications. Now i can safely tell you that Carol appears to be stabilized and is now residing at the West End Villa nursing home which is very close to where our apartment is in Ottawa. We still miss our winters in Texas but have enjoyed our stay in Ottawa. Carol and I managed a cruise to the Caribbean last Christmas which was out of New York. Carol's dialysis worked very well during the entire trip. Three years ago I with my oldest grand-daughter took a 2 week trip to South Africa and 1 week in London UK. The next year my grand-son and I did a 12 day cruise with 9 ports of call around the British Isles. Then this year their younger sister and I did 3 days in San Francisco and then over to Auckland N.Z, for 4 days, then to the Gold Coast and Sydney AUS..for 8 days. All our trips were amazing. I am blessed to have grand-children that want to go with me. I still play tennis ( not well) and pickle ball in the winter, yoga classes 3 days a week and a few cards. Wishing you all the best and another enjoyable winter in Texas
Carol and Floyd Shepherdson
We miss Carol and Floyd. Wishing both of them the very best and hoping Carol continues with her stabilization of her health.

Continue with your prayers for Barbara Horne and for Vera Janis. Safe travels for all of you who are packing to head south. Looking forward to seeing each and everyone of you.....Pam
